The following broker is assigned to this listing:

Jay Brennanjaybrennan@sunbeltnetwork.comDescription

Established and successful small printing business in eastern suburbs of GTA has struggled since the untimely demise of its long time owner. The business has continued with two key long term employees maintaining its customer base. The company provides for the printing needs of a number of long term government agency customers as well as doing some local printing. The Seller who has temporarily added the business to their larger holdings wishes to divest the printing business to someone who has sales and marketing skills and the drive to restore the business to its previous success. The Seller is very willing to work with you in taking over the business and building it back up. This is an excellent opportunity for a buyer without a lot of cash but with a lot of heart and drive to own and succeed in their own business with an established brand name in the printing business.
